In the spring of 2022, the Institute for Teaching & Learning fielded the Noel Levitz Satisfaction survey to all YSU students. Two different survey versions were used as a part of the survey administration. Many of the same items occur on both surveys, and this document focuses on both survey versions, but breaks up results by undergraduate/graduate status and age group. The surveys had a response rate of 17%.

I feel as if I’m a member of the university community.

I seldom get the run-around when seeking information at this institution.

Students were asked how important an item is on a scale of 1-7, with 7 being the most important. Students are then asked how satisfied they are with that item on a scale of 1-7, with 7 being the most satisfied. The gap is the difference between importance and satisfaction.
